Program Description

TutorFind specializes in private, individualized instruction in a one on one or very small group setting to help students improve math or reading. TutorFind's tutors are ATA Certified and work with students and parents to help students succeed. Tutors are available to help students with Learning Disabilities, ADD/ADHD or who are new English Language Learners. All students receive a pre and post assessment so parents and teachers can gauge progress. Tutoring may take place at various locations, including school, home, library or another location of the parents' choosing. TutorFind has been providing tutoring services in the DC Metro area since 1993 and in that time has provided over 180,000 hours of successful tutoring.
